- Knowledge of or willingness to learn agency front-end data systems
- Strong ability to analyze data to identify issues that need to be addressed
- Recent experience defining operational terminology and defining the meaning of a system's data elements
- Understand the role and importance of Personal Identifiable Information (PII) and of OCAP
- Defines the data domain profile including the data definition (what it means), data scope (where it's applied), boundaries (what defines acceptable data values) and data stores (where the data can be found and how it is processed)
- Identification and definition of domain business terms
- Formal process for identification and definition approval.
- Identification of critical data elements
- Manage and implement data corrections (in conjunction with the data analyst or similar role) to increase the agency's data quality
- Write structured reports around variances in data quality rules for data elements (in conjunction with the data analyst or similar role)
- Definition and documentation of data elements' metadata including definition, lineage, and transformations
- Identification and approval of critical business terms and data elements
- Identification, tracking and management of data issues
- Coordination with enterprise data issue management process.

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Extensive experience in Indigenous Child Well-Being Services and/or child welfare, with sound knowledge of the role of supporting systems, processes, and data in child welfare operations.
- College diploma\University degree or 3 years equivalent work experience in data.
- Very Good written and oral communication skills, and strong documentation skills.
- Very Good interpersonal skills, with a focus on rapport-building, listening and questioning skills.
- Exceptional customer-centric orientation and ability to present ideas in user-friendly language.
- Ability to conduct research into a wide range of computing issues as required. Proven analytical and problem-solving abilities.
- Ability to absorb and retain information quickly.
- Highly self-motivated and directed. Keen attention to detail.
- Ability to effectively prioritize and execute tasks in a high-pressure environment.
- Demonstrated understanding, and commitment to, integrating ANCFSAO Agencies mission and values into practice, service, and relationships.
- Demonstrated understanding of workplace Health and Safety practices and understanding of an employee's responsibility under current legislation.
- Ability to work effectively with all levels of staff, to maintain effective communication and working relationships, demonstrating strong interpersonal skills, tact, sensitivity and build strong internal relationships.
